

Fabric Structures—Where to Begin

This course gives an overview of the fabric structures industry, covering today's materials and their advantages compared to traditional building materials.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Understanding the variety of fabric structures in use today and through history
- The scope and variety of materials available
- The advantages of incorporating fabric into design
- The complete design process and relevant issues

INTERESTED IN THIS COURSE?

A member of IFAI's Fabric Structures Association is available to teach it at your firm.

Contact

Jill Newman
+1 651 225 6953
jmnewman@ifai.com

INDUSTRIAL FABRICS ASSOCIATION INTERNATIONAL | IFAI.com | FabricStructuresAssociation.org

The Fabric Structures Association (FSA) is a division of the Industrial Fabrics Association International. Our purpose is to promote the use and growth of fabric structures and to represent the interests and concerns of the fabric structures industry in the Americas.